

Privacy policy – Chao Legal

Chao Legal respects your privacy. Chao Legal cannot render its services without processing certain of your (personal) data. Chao Legal therefore applies a privacy policy that is applicable to its website www.chaolegal.nl and - if applicable - to all personal data that Chao Legal processes when providing its (legal) services. Chao Legal acts in compliance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). In this privacy policy, you will read what personal data Chao Legal will (potentially) process, for which purposes and in which way.

Which personal data?

If you fill in the contact form on the website of Chao Legal (www.chaolegal.nl), or request services from Chao Legal by any other means (by telephone, regular mail, in person or otherwise), you are requested to provide the following personal data, for the client acceptance procedure:

- * first and last name;
- * email address;
- * business address;
- * (business) telephone number;
- * (business) mobile number;
- * details about your case;
- * copy ID (only in case of acceptance of a new client);
- * VAT number;
- * bank account details

For which purpose?

- * for the client acceptance procedure;
- * to comply with applicable rules and regulations.
- * to perform (legal) services by Chao Legal;
- * to obtain (anonymous) website usage statistics, to improve the website of Chao Legal.

In which way?

The website of Chao Legal is making use of contact forms and Google Analytics. Google Analytics is making use of analytical cookies. These are cookies (small text files) placed on your computer, in which certain data are recorded - such as a website you are visiting - in order to determine user statistics. If you visit the website of Chao Legal, you will see a banner below the website, in which the use of cookies is being disclosed. Other (personal) data shall be collected by Chao Legal by means of the website of Chao Legal, or by other means such as by telephone, regular mail, in person or otherwise.

Cookies have been set in a privacy friendly mode

The cookies of Google Analytics have been set in a privacy-friendly modus, which means that only certain non-traceable data are collected such as: anonymized IP-address (This means that the last octet of the IP-address has been anonymized, the so-called 'Anonymize IP'), technical details (for example: what browser is used, the resolution of the computer screen), what pages are visited on the website of Chao Legal and from what website the website visitor arrived at Chao Legal.

The possibility of sharing data with Google has been switched off. Chao Legal does not make any use of other Google Analytics cookies.

Questions ?

If you have any questions on the applicable privacy policy, you may contact Chao Legal on: ichu@chaolegal.nl. You can also fill in the contact form on the website www.chaolegal.nl, on the page 'Contact'.